

The alphabet is everywhere.

Point out letters and say the sounds they make so young children can become good readers someday.

